

PRESS RELEASE
22nd JULY 2021

Etenon Fitness: the main sponsor of the Arnold Classic Pro Show

This year 2021, the competition will take place in Seville

On September 18th, the city of Seville opens its doors to the 11th edition of the Arnold Classic Pro Show, an international event in which the best bodybuilders in the world show on stage the work of months: their spectacular physiques. The event will be attended by IFBB President, Dr Rafael Santonja and Governor Arnold Schwarzenegger, and its main sponsor will be Etenon Fitness.

The Congress and Exhibition Hall FIBES in Seville will host the event from the 17th to the 19th of September, a venue that hosts a number of important national and international events and trade fairs.

The prizes vary according to the position in which you finish, and the category in which you compete. A total of 80,000 euros will be distributed among all the winners.

To participate in the competition, athletes will have to receive a personal invitation, direct entry is not permitted. The categories in which athletes can compete are: Bodybuilding, Classic Physique, Men's Physique, Bikini Fitness, Bodyfitness, Wellness, Women's Fitness and Women's Physique.

The IFBB Elite Pro Arnold Classic Europe is part of the prestigious Grand Slam, that is to say one of the five big bodybuilding events of the year: in April, the Siberian Power Show in Russia, and in July, the Mr. Europe Pro in Santa Susana (Spain). After the Arnold Classic Europe, there will be the Mr. Universe Pro (in Marbella, next October), and the Night of Champions, an event for which the date and venue have yet to be confirmed.

Etenon Fitness is proud to sponsor an event of such international renown. An appointment with the world of bodybuilding that you cannot miss.
